She can't keep away from them
Waits here and disappears
From the wrong things she intends Pretty soon they've got you hanging on a line Pretty soon they string you one by one, same old rope

She says, "I'm alright, just take me home tonight"
She don't want nobody home cause its a little too crowded there She don't want to be alone So they just keep pouring in Pretty soon they've got her heading for the door

She comes home to find they cannot hang around no more
She says, "I'm alright, just take me home tonight"
Pain won't rationalize all those alibis and reasons that keep creeping in tonight

You're half a world away But I just can't wash away the stain of every single thing that you could not believe oh well

She don't want no one around she don't want anybody to see what she looks like when she's down cause the truth's a sad place to be Pretty soon she gets them crawling up the walls Every sunday morning the bed bleeds and you never saw

She says, "I'm ok, its alright, hey look what do we want to do tonight?"

She says, "I'm alright, I just can't get home tonight."
