Love is evil, so unkind,
It leaves you dumb and sometimes blind,
It's an addiction, it's a curse,
Stronger than any drug man-made,
It's high is strong, but when it fades,
You're left feeling empty and hurt.

For love, for love, love, love,
You'd give it all away,
For love, for love,
You'd give it away.

Well, the kittens got you smitten,
She's sent from above,
All you wanna do is fall in love,
You're feeling low-down, dirty, and blue,
You're just looking for love.

Angel to your left, and ready to fight,
The devil sitting to your right,
Crush his spirit, crush the man,
Look real close, you'll realize,
That angel's a devil in disguise,
But then again, you ain't no christian man.

For love, for love, love, love, love,
You'd give it all away,
For love, for love,
You'd give it away.

You've got your head in a whirl all over that girl,
Don't you know she's gonna shake your world?
Your heart aches so bad, feels like it's gonna burst,
You're just looking for love.

Well love is evil, sometimes blind,
Love is cruel, and so unkind,
But you'll chase it as far as the stars above,
