Now you say this is the end and just remember that this fight
won't last forever
Your inner voice will lie again, and it will say we'll never cross this bridge together.
Little lies become the truth, your new obsession.

Your sordid thoughts will overwhelm you
Destroy the light we lit together
It gets so dark inside of you
Reach out my hand is here to help you
Oh tell me you know it's true.

You get along with your distress
Your heart is closed and I can't find a way to enter
I can't bare this emptiness
Sometimes it gets so desolate how can I take it?
Little lies become the truth, your new obsession.

When I said I didn't love you
A careless choice that I regret it
I wish I never hurt you
The time is running out to console you

Your sordid thoughts will overwhelm you
Destroy the light we lit together
It gets so dark inside of you
Reach out my hand is here to help you
Oh tell me you know it's true.
