"No Answer"

If youâ€™re coming back I donâ€™t want to turn my back

Leaving you outside in darkness

I would like to see your smile

I would love to bring you out and reveal your tenderness in silence.

Thereâ€™s no answer.

Thereâ€™s no time to regret what we tried in the past
Now itâ€™s time to get out of the madness at last.

I donâ€™t want to try to create another lie and escape
my delusions

I would like you to stop looking at me with the knives in your eyes

Letâ€™s look at the stars to find out the constellation of peace.

Thereâ€™s no answer.
