Helping hands what she required she learn't to turn and walk away
Although this hurt her feelings she new she'd live another day

She swore she'd turn it round
The only answer physical
She's working in the gym
Swore this would never happen again

And now she sees her plans in sight this little girl would start the fight
And when her kata's through her yellow belt would turn to blue

She swore she'd turn it round

The only answer physical
She's working in the gym
Swore this would never happen again
Karate girl

A thousand memories and regrets etched into her mind
A life time made of bad mistakes and she can never find
But she can't commit
No she can't commit

She swore she'd turn it round
The only answer physical
She's working in the gym
Karate girl
