Spin me round and round and up and down and round and round again.

I'm getting just a little tired of the line lets just be friends.

You make me paranoid, I cant avoid worrying about you.

If you weren't so damn attractive I don't know what I'd do

Hey, Wait
Can I ask you something?

Hey, wait
Didn't you look away?

I'm not Asking that much of you,
I just have something to say...
I'm in the background, want to be found, don't assume that its by you

It doesn't matter what you think or say its what you do

And I don't think I'll ever let you drive my car again

It's not a problem til, I hear that faithful line, let's just be friends

Hey, wait
can I ask you something?
hey wait
didn't you look away?
I'm not asking that much of you
I just have something to say
