Before you came I couldn't feel
What was love, what was real
Were no ups, were no downs
Falling without touching ground

Didn't care what teachers taught
I was sleeping more than not
Now that you have ripped my heart
Finally my life can start

At least now I have something to cry about
At least, something to cry about
At least now I have something to cry about
At least now I have something

I don't care if you don't care
If it was fake, no nothing there
Something that I got that night
Something and I'm holding tight

You can joke with all your friends
Nothing matters in the end
Only half that memory is yours
Now I have my two edged sword

At least now I have something to laugh about
At least, something to laugh about
At least now I have something to laugh about
At least now I have something

I'm feeling and it feels OK
Thinking don't throw it all away
I can't believe I'm saying this but anything might happen
This is something you have got me here
I don't know how but have no fear

At least now I have something to shout about
At least, something to shout about
At least now I have something to shout about
At least now I have something
