When you're young you're cold as stone
Then you thaw or maybe not, no
Your face is gone, cover's blown
Letting go of what you've known

Pushing all the hate aside
Remember our summer's sand and Humble Pie
We faked them out, we made our play
We took for us that very day

And we said
"Instead it's something all our own"
"Instead it's something all our own"

You and I for thirty days
It's not a fling they're sad to say
It doesn't matter what they see
Because our depth is far beneath

And we'll say
"Instead it's something all our own"
"Instead it's something all our own"

"Instead it's something all our own"
"Instead it's something all our own"
