Nighttime sun light my face Â... guide me home once again.
All is one filled with grace Â... there's no beginning no end.
And I know the wheels are turning on a road that's cold or burning.
Under the rain and the thunder I wonder who's painting the silver line.
Oh yeah.

Nighttime sunÂ... shine away Â... light the dark and the grey.
Yesterdays winds of change Â... clear the mist of today.

And I've been trying to find a meaning cause
It's not, in the books I've been reading.
Under the rain and the thunder
I wonder who's painting the silver line. Oooh yeah.
I wonder who's painting the silver line.

SOLO

And I know the wheels are turning on a road that's cold or burning.
Under the rain and the thunder Tell me who's painting the silver line. Oooh
I wonder who's painting the silver line

Nighttime sun, all is one, under the rain and the thunder
The silver line.
Nighttime sun, all is one

Nighttime sun Â... Guide me home once again.
