God knows I'm crying
Finally crying
Embracing the bell as it tolls
Awaiting a heavenly dying
The curtain to fall
I hate their lies
Seems like everything they say
Promising I'll be Okay
Just have faith in your way
And take life day by day
Not to everything there is a season,
And there's no time to every purpose under the heaven
Son, never afraid
Have love like I never had Laugh, cry, have tears in your eyes
Promise you'll dare to dare

And never afraid
Love life like I never had
Be true to yourself, as hard as it seems
And live by your wildest dreams
(I believe there's no time to waste)
Son, please hear my words
(And beware of what I became)
(Half faded man)
