"Sunburn In The Shade"

Visit "Sunburn In The Shade" on MotoLyrics.com

It's been raining almost everyday
Under the surface there's something that you won't display
I feel the sunburn coming from the shade
I feel the dryness in the pouring rain

I look over my shoulder and I'll tell you what I see It's just another angry man trying to take everything from me

They've been stealing almost everything
Left us to suffer under greedy kings
They've been stealing our very souls
They lie to get close and then they take control

I look over my shoulder and I'll tell you what I see
It's just another friend of mine trying to take everything
from me

I work diligently
A man of honest
I like reality
Why do you want to take it from me?

I won't bow down
I won't bow down
I won't bow down
I won't bow down to that king
