How did you become what you became
Why did we all fall prey to your secret game
I used to think that you were oh so great
But everything that you said doesn't mean a thing
It doesn't mean a thing

There's no excuse for the way that your kids behave
They hurt so many with the things that they say
A family so fucked up they're a mental case
Bring out straight jackets let's take all of them away
Let's take them away

Chorus:
Cause while you rest everything's a mess
Those that are left can only guess
Why you did the things you did
These are actions I can't forgive

I'm not here to debate what can't be changed
But there are times where I wish you were still awake
How fucked up that you took such a cheap escape
Now that I know I wish I could make you pay
I wish you could pay

Chorus:
Cause while you rest everything's a mess
Those that are left can only guess
Why you did the things you did
These are actions I can't forgive
