Iâ€™m the bolt thatâ€™s coming straight down from the clouds.
Ground me, baby, light the fuse and see what comes around.
Donâ€™t let go of the things youâ€™re holding to.
That might be your last mistake, the voltageâ€™s coming through.

Iâ€™m falling down with you next to me, with you next to me.
Iâ€™m wasting light; electricity, electricity.
Iâ€™m falling down with you next to me, with you next to me.
Iâ€™m wasting light; electricity, electricity.

Iâ€™m the thunder that gets you off the bed.
Who would you rather be, donâ€™t tell me youâ€™re afraid.
Makes me wonder though, which one would you choose.
Darling, when I see your face I know I did not lose.

Bear with me, but donâ€™t pull me back;
Donâ€™t lose your head, just stay on track;
Infinite realities, clashing down calamities.
Donâ€™t you dare to speak a word, I warned you â€™bout the risk you took.
Whatâ€™s up there in the sky? Are you dreaming, are you high?

Iâ€™m falling down with you next to me, with you next to me.
Iâ€™m wasting light; electricity, electricity.
Iâ€™m falling down with you next to me, with you next to me.
Iâ€™m wasting light; electricity, electricity.
