I smile, I cry like a boy if you touch me.
It's been some time since we spoke about us.
Something about us makes me wonder,
Whether we are ever gonna hit a wall.
And if heaven smiles, it's gonna be above us,
Above us, above us.

Look at my face (my face, my face);
It bears no memories of you.
Deep in my brain (my brain, my brain),
I swear I saw what's left of you.
I love you. Oh yes, yes I do. Oh, you.
I love you. Oh yes, yes I do.

I need to stop, I need to stop.
I'll crawl under a tree, if you get past me.
Why would you say these things to me?
Don't you see I have no sympathy for you?
Devil laughs at our backs.
Devil smiles, thinks of us.

Look at my face (my face, my face);
It bears no memories of you.
Deep in my brain (my brain, my brain),
I swear I saw what's left of you.
I love you. Oh yes, yes I do. Oh, you.
I love you. Oh yes, yes I do.

Would you care for me, if I go
A thousand miles away?
In the heart of the one, who took you away
A thousand miles away?
Like a knife, or a bullet, or an axe,
The moon has reached it's parallax.
Oh, God, please hold me back.
Just hold me back.
Just hold me back.
