Hey girl, is life everything that it could be?
Hey girl, do you think there's something missing tell me
Have you been wishing for company?
Cause I could make your fire brighter as you loose and take you higher
If you'd let me in
And if you find that love's confusion, Girl I got your solution, give me some time and you'll see
Yeah you'll see

Together, you and me, we'll write a symphony
With a melody, just as sweet as your smile
And the world would be, , underneath
Just because of you and me
Because of you and me

Hey girl, you made the right decision, sat aside your inhibitions
Let it be Hey girl, the sky is the limit, there's nothing that we can't achieve
Cause we're history in the making, this world's our for the taking
As long as we can believe
And when these arms of mine surround you
You know that love has found you
There'll be no mystery, mystery

That together, you and me, we'll write a symphony
With a melody, just as sweet as your smile
And the world would be, , underneath
Just because of you and me
Because of you and me

Feel the rhythm move right through you
Let the music take control
This is a love song for the universe, baby
Because of you and me
Because of you and me

Together, you and me, we'll write a symphony
With a melody, just as sweet as your smile
And the world would be, , underneath
Just because of you and me
Because of you and me.
