

The Skeptic

"Scream"

Visit "Scream" on MotoLyrics.com

I guess
I'm just too selfish
And I guess your "perfect" vision of your child
Has turned out worthless

And I guess since speaking
My own mind is such a rotten crime
And I guess I disappoint my father
And make my mother cry

And your constant negativity
Keeps me far from fine
But I'm done with putting up with you
Just listen one last time

And I'll yell
And I'll scream at the top of my lungs
And I'll try to show you
This is who I've become
(Who I've become)

This house was bitter
The road became sweeter
As the distance grew further
Your words linger louder

An overcast of broken dreams
A sky filled with misery
Where no one but your shadow cares
Is all you claimed was here

These highway lights
Show me
I'm alive
They blur as we move on
To the place where we belong

And I'll yell
And I'll scream at the top of my lungs
And I'll try to show you
This is who I've become

(Who I've become)

Yell and I'll scream at the top of my lungs
And I'll try to show you
This is who I've become

Not become who you thought I would
Leaving all that should be the way you want
Empty hearts and thoughts
Keep in mind that I haven't seen the day
When I knew I was right
(The day)

I!
Will!
Find!
My!
Destiny!
My destiny!

Anxiously waiting to fall asleep
Anxiously waiting to fall asleep
Laying awake, I live my dream
(I found peace)

And I'll yell and I'll scream at the top of my lungs
And I'll try to show you
This is who I've become
(Who I've become)

Visit The Skeptic page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.