In the morning lookin in the mirror yeah
I thought to myself one day we'll all be gone
The earth will die and we'll be gone gone gone
And in the night time layin to rest my head
I can't sleep cause I'm thinkin we'll all be dead
Cause all we want right now is more yeah
Woke up this mornin and I started feelin down down
I can't explain it
I must have had a dream that things were fine
Yeah happens all the time
No distinction from dark when the days' no sun
Who's to blame you know maybe your're the one
Who sat in silence while they fuck things up

Leave behind for our children a world that's dead
Call me a punk tell the world that I'm out of my head
To keep concealed that there all wrong yeah yeah
Woke up this mornin and I started feelin down down
I can't explain it
I must have had a dream that things were fine
Yeah happens all the time
The sun is hotter and the winters getting warmer
And the trees we cut down forget the air
Forget the water
Money's what it's about and it leaves me no doubt
That the earth is gonna die
You know she wont be coming back
Because she's gone
