Turn up the heat
I will soar across the sea
It will be you and me,
Again...

Nobody else knows me like you do
But after everything that has happened
And all the things that we've been through
Is it wrong to want you back
After all this time
I wonder can I win you over
I want you to be mine

Cos we're two fireworks
We're lighting up the sky
We're shooting for the stars
They don't seem too high

I know I can survive
Without you by my side
Doesn't mean that I want to
I won't shine half as bright

Cos we're two fireworks
Lighting up the sky
Nothing seems too high
With you by my side
But like everything that goes up
It has to come back down
But after we explode
We won't have to touch the ground

Dance with me through the flames
I'll turn, you'll sway
And our colours will interchange
Over and over again

We're two fireworks
Burning through the sky
And you won't see me
You'll have to avert your eyes

But like everything that goes up
It has to come back down
But after we explode
We wont have to touch the ground
