Gave up the thing you loved
Just to chase the dream
Try not to wake up
Just go back to sleep
I've said quite enough
You say I broke your heart
How can you break what was not there from the start

Can't find the words to tell you
And I know the road is long
But when this is all over
I will carry on

Don't get to comfortable
Make sure I cannot stay
Don't get to distraught
You don't belong here anyway
Miles away from home
Don't think I will return
I've said this all before
I guess I'll never learn

Can't find the words to tell you
And I know the road is long
But when this is all over
I will carry on
I can't find the words to tell you
And I know the road is long
But when this is all over
I will carry on

There's one thing I'm certain
You will return to me
But if you say it's over
Then I'll admit defeat
