Where have we gone wrong?
We've traveled this road for so long
Through every turn
Sometimes we'll burn
But we have and will always remain strong

Where are the answers?
They say seek and you will find
Some place to lay your head
Something to ease the pain
In the back of your mind

Find truth in the words I say
I know you never wanted it to be this way

So get up, get out, and make your own way
No time for the bullshit that has lead you to replay
Everything in your head

Over again like it was yesterday
You just gotta start over again
And let it drift away

We picked up the pieces
To our lives
And flattened the creases
We've seen it all
The rise and the fall

And here is the thesis
Live to the fullest
Dodge all their bullets
Don't ever let go
It gets better than you know

Find truth in the words I say
I know you never wanted it to be this way

So get up, get out, and make your own way
No time for the bullshit that has lead you to replay
Everything in your head

Over again like it was yesterday
You just gotta start over again
And let it drift away
