I thought this was ours
I thought this was mine.
It's with neither one of us now,
It's long gone with time.

I thought you were easy to find
You are now hard to find.
When you're in comfort of prayers
You're not here but all in my mind.

Don't defend me,
I know that you cannot try
Try to hold me
Cause I'll do you, up to the sky.

She thought this was hers
And it once was, placed in (?)
But yours is no longer
And I was to be lost, a crying shame.
I thought I was found,
I have broken without a sound.

Falling here right beside
You were my
Stone in the ground

Don't defend me,
I know that you cannot try
Try to hold me
Cause I'll do you, up to the sky.

Don't defend me,
I know that you cannot try.
Try to hold me
Cause I'll do you, up to the sky.
