Played me for the fool
Restful ways of plenty there
Knowing what you knew Arrested in the night

But I guess that's what you get for being for the harvester of souls
And I guess that's what you get for knowing that you played

No more then you go breaking with the past Flower not of passion there ringing through this land

But I guess that's how we come to know the harvester of souls
And I guess that's what you get for knowing when you should

One more time...
Breathing with the rhythm of life waving in the crashing towns the precious with the lost

Showing the way in darker times to the harvester of souls and the wreck on shores and rocks you've seen it will show

knowing what you knew
knowing what you knew
