There's nothing left to say. There's nothing more to ask
for.

Just turn, turn and walk away. Close the door behind you.

In your eyes of blue I could always see tomorrow.

When my world was you I could see the sunlight in your
eyes.

Daylight turns to gray, with raindrops on my sidewalk.

When my world was you I could see the sunlight in your
eyes.

for.

Just turn, turn and walk away.

and Close the Door.....
