I'll be waiting for someone new,
Who wants to leave his sorrow.
A sorrow that wakes up in blue,
Someone new, what about you?
I'll be waiting...

Someone thinks that this feeling is right,
Sitting alone every morning.
But I go in a swinging good time,
Walking this life until it becomes bright,
I'll be waiting...uh...for you

Sorry is a talent in me,
You can do it, please.
There're no losers when you try it.
Imagine writing a song,
Listen to the sounds move on.
Still I'm growing up and loving more than all, for you.

I'll be waiting for someone new,
Able to change water to cider.
You are not entangled right now in the web of the spider.
I want you to know that I have faith in you.

Calling what is not in there!
What you cannot see!
Creating new plans to dream with me.

I'll be waiting for much better times,
And I hope you'll be fine.

I'll be waiting...For you... I'll be waiting...For you..
