Looking at my life through my rear view
Reminiscing things since a child that I've been through Mums was sick, I had a couple friends that died
I almost faced time for some stupid little petty crime
Hid away, vanished in the silence
A life full of drugs surrounded by violence
Looking at the sky, looking for the lords help
He can't bless me this time, I gotta do it by myself
Gotta write these punch lines, Need to keep it tight
When I jump on the mic this life finally seems right
When I go to sleep at night all I see in my dreams is beams of lights
This is the time to fight
So I don't really care if I make it or not I'mma keep making music regardless the spot
In my world I'm my own king
It's all about the music and right now I wanna sing
