On the walls my desperation with draws a new life of salvation
A place of visions to burn the vessel that poisons an unstable (an) error in this system where long forgotten memories descend straight to the grave

(chorus)
Buried in ashes beholds my life of sorrow and misery
Let it all wash away

I will always come back to disobedience from a rude awakening
May I rise from silence to enlighten An awakening should bring about sheer light as I release thunder the sounds of torment wander

let it all wash away
buried in ashes are our dreams
let it all wash away

buried in ashes
wash away
