I can see the stars, I can see the stripes
Flying high, in glorious red, blue and white
I'm a freedom child, born in liberty
And there's millions more like me, from sea to shining sea
There's fifty states where I can live and grow
But no matter which one I call my home

I can dream anything I want to
And believe that it's gonna come true
And achieve what's been said I couldn't do
I can fly where the eagles fly
Underneath these sacred skies
America, I owe it all to you
Red, white and beautiful

I'm an astronaut or an architect
Or a doctor in the making, though I'm not one yet
I'll be anything, where I wanna be
Thanks to the faith that you've given me
Sometimes life is gonna be a rocky road
But I'll stand up to the challenge cause I know

I can dream anything I want to
And believe that it's gonna come true
And achieve what's been said I couldn't do
I can fly where the eagles fly
Underneath these sacred skies
America, I owe it all to you
Red, white and beautiful
Red, white and beautiful

I can dream anything I want to
And believe that it's gonna come true
And achieve what's been said I couldn't do
I can fly where the eagles fly
Underneath these sacred skies
America, I owe it all to you

I can dream anything I want to
And believe that it's gonna come true

And achieve what's been said I couldn't do
I can fly where the eagles fly
Underneath these sacred skies
America, I owe it all to you
Red, white and beautiful
Oh, so beautiful
