Ankle high water, searching for sand dollars with her, wouldn't it be something if her and I could spend em?
At the sand bar drink till we pass out, wake sunburnt with her titties and her ass out, These have to be the golden years, golden brown skin, gold barrets in her golden hair, dressed like golden eye if I cried it'd be a golden tear, golden rubbers in my pocket reclined in this folding chair, staring at her...
Got rid of her tan lines....better wake her for her ass get burnt though, lookin at me like I committed a damn crime, guarantee that her ass did learn though.
Cold showers and Aloe Vera for two days, dim lights, popcorn and blue rays, beginning of a new craze same ol' story but this a new age, wear the shoe if it fits and tie your shoe lace....

And I know that you know that I know you still have feelings, I still have feelings too,
And you know that i know that You know I'm too afraid to say it, and inside it's killing you, nah it's killin me...yea it's kilin me...(it's killin me)

Spin around in circles in that sundress,
Dancing with no music yet there's substance, It's a beautiful thang a beautiful thing perceptions will change exceptions are madeX2
Natural highlights and your skin is sun kissed Walk into the ocean as you undress, It's a beautiful thing a beautiful thing perceptions will change
exceptions are madeX2

My vision is limitless dividends Benjamin's are present but with you there's still timidness Love triangle like the Bermuda I was drowning then you saved me many nights I have dreamt of this You saved me before my last breath, then took my breath away, you taught me to love and hate less, brought out the best in me, but why would you invest in me is this a lesson I feel like your always testing me accepted me for who I was brought me in with your song, I didn't know it but subconsciously I sang along, winds grew strong filled the sails and pulled me closer collided into rocks I watched as you just pushed me over- powered by the current fooled by a deterrent a lesson that mans forever learnin my heart is burning beneath this water

And I know that you know that I know you still have
feelings, I still have feelings too
And you know that i know that You know I'm too afraid to say it and inside it's killing you nah it's killin me, it's killing me...(it's killin me)

Spin around in circles in that sundress,
Dancing with no music yet there's substance,
It's a beautiful thang a beautiful thing perceptions will
change exceptions are madeX2
Natural highlights and your skin is sun kissed
Walk into the ocean as you undress, It's a beautiful thing a beautiful thing perceptions will
change
exceptions are madeX2

And i know that You know that i know you still have feelings I still have feelings too.....and it's killin me...it's killin me...(it's killin me)
