I take your hand And we cross the street
You're like a child And i know that your mine
Listen to the voices That keep tellin' where i am
We'll soon be together Till the end of time

Broken flowers were given to me
They seem to mend time eventually
Strangers are passin' all the time
Lock your heart and you'll be fine

Simple people Do things right
They don't seem To have a care
The road to heaven Is over the hill
Time can change things It's your will

Broken flowers were given to me
They seem to mend time eventually
Strangers are passin' all the time
Lock your heart and you'll be fine

I'll tell you things That you can't see
About lifes treasures And their needs
You look up to The stars at night
And you wonder How they planted the seed

Broken flowers were given to me
They seem to mend time eventually
Strangers are passin' all the time
Lock your heart and you'll be fine

I want to go home today It's the place to be
But i'm leavin' tomorrow
I've seen more than enough sorrow

Broken flowers were given to me
They seem to mend time eventually
Strangers are passin' all the time
Lock your heart and you'll be fine

I'm sittin' on the fence At my front poarch
With my little brother And his coach

My situation Is very clear
I know my thoughts Are with you dear

Broken flowers were given to me
They seem to mend time eventually
Strangers are passin' all the time
Lock your heart and you'll be fine
