i'm know i'm not that special especially in your eyes so when i see you tonight please don't apologize why couldn't i have just kept my mouth shut because i feel like shit again can't get my foot out of my mouth life's so unfair it seems i never met a girl quite like you so pure and so true now that you don't come around i feel like i've let you down wish i could say the words that could stitch things up, make things okay but i've already said too much and it doesn't matter anyway i'm sorry for what i did what was i thinking i'm sorry, fucked up and now you're leaving i shouldn't have told you the truth i should have lied i should have thought of how you feel if i could take it back, i would
