he signed his life away brainwashed and told him what to say you taught him to use me as your toy took away all my joy just another victim in your life wish he would have never met you just walked on by as the weeks get longer and the years get shorter you'll never know how much i hurt you'll never know just what you've done to me put on an act, hoping i'll forget the past one day he'll see through my eyes one day he'll realize one day he'll see through that black and broken heart one day he'll see all the pain you've caused as true as the clouds are to the sky as true as a hunger baby cries as true as to you, you ruined my life
