we poured our heart and souls into the promised land streets of gold
they say give your all to me and you'll be saved but where does it go the blood of our man someone else's war
it leaves me ripping and screaming down to my core we payed for racist biased cops that are doing their best but making things worse sounds like a jagged excuse for power power misused

what i've seen on the news the other day another kid shot down from a bullet gone astray

this world is going to hell and no one seems give a damn but something needs to change and even if i die i want to say that i've tried to make this a better life
