

59 Times The Pain

"When I Remember When"

Visit "When I Remember When" on MotoLyrics.com

All the things I said
I should have said and didn't say
And I wonder why
Yes I wonder why
I think about the time we spent
The places that we went
Still makes me cry
Yes it makes me cry

Why do they say that time will heal
This broken heart
They would know that isn't true
If they lost someone like you, oh

Some things can never be replaced
Some things are with me for always
These are the things I will remember
When I remember when
I'd rather love and lose it all
Than never have you to recall
These are the things I will remember
Again and again (again and again)
When I remember when

You taught me how to love
I am all I am because of you
Just because of you
Everytime I lost my way
You shined a light
And made my day
You see me through
Yes you see me through

So who's gonna come around
To heal this broken heart
Show me how to laugh and cry
But never how to say goodbye

Some things can never be replaced
Some things are with me for always
These are the things I will remember

When I remember when
I'd rather love and lose it all
Than never have you to recall
These are the things I will remember
Again and again (again and again)
When I remember when

Guess life goes on
You carry on, you do
And it's okay (when i remember when)
Yes love goes on
And I will live to love another day
(again and again)
Guess life goes on
You carry on, you do
And it's okay

I would laugh
And I will cry
But I will never say goodbye

Some things can never be replaced
Some things are with me for always
These are the things I will remember
When I remember when
I'd rather love and lose it all
Than never have you to recall
These are the things I will remember
Again and again (again and again)
When I remember when
When I remember when

Visit 59 Times The Pain page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.