The longest of short stories, the longest of prayer
Confident and willing and violently bears
The truth behind the meaning, as it has been told
Remember them wisely so you don't get fooled

Don't take it for granted, don't forget for sure
Don't forget the meaning, don't forget your soul
The longest of short stories, the longest of pleas
Aggressive and brutal, it murderously sees
The truth behind the meaning, like fables of old
Remember them wisely, so you don't get fooled
