Sitting in my room
Said you want the truth
Don't count on me,
Don't count on me

Naked on a roof
Feeling far removed
Don't count on me,
Don't count on me

She knows nothing
About the stars
Except she believes in astrology
Says we were destined to be together
She's all I have
And I need her now,
I need her now

She knows nothing
About my heart
Except she holds it in her hands
Says we were destined to break apart
She's all I had
And I need her now,
I need her now
