Hassled by the Ridgecrest police
After wandering onto a military base
Just met her on a movie set
A fire eating woman cranked up on meth
Her and her boyfriend are arrested
And hauled away into the desert

Driving through Mojave City
Singing to the stars
The moon lights my way
Stopped at a truck stop, feeling empty
Singing to the stars
The moon lights my way

Slept away another lonely day
Entered a gas station to find my way
The lady inside said through crooked teeth
"Turn right and you'll hit Highway 14"
Searching for my desert princess
Blacktop mirages in the distance

It's easier to find your way home
Than it is to find your way
It's easier to give up hope
Than it is to live for today
