Awakening from what appears
To be a daydream
And there are stars all around
But it isn't night time
The birds are all singing
And he can't find his shoes
He's wishing that he never
Had a job

And he knew
It would end this way
Yeah, he knew
It would end this way

Playing his part as the fool
Just as before
Except for now it's painful
And there are jokers all around
Seems everyone
They fancy themselves the king,
"Kings of shit"
'Cause there's no happiness
In arrogance
Yeah, he's always known that

And it's beginning to show
Because life is making sense
It's making him sing again
And all his dreams are coming true
