Iâ€™ve been pushing stones away
Far from these shores
I pretend that itâ€™s all okay
Till on the brink of what canâ€™t be adored
We survived
Well we can change
So let it fade
Just let it go
We pretend so nothing does change
Weâ€™re flowers never breaking through the stone
I pretended and prayed it all away
Searching for a place to hide
But I donâ€™t need afflicted memories
To fade
I just wanna feel something real inside
And we survive
Well we can change
So let it fade
Let it go
We pretend so nothing does change
Weâ€™re flowers never breaking through the stone.
Iâ€™ve been pushing stones away
Far from these shores
I pretend that itâ€™s all okay
To no longer bring what can be adored
We survived
Well we can change
So let it fade
Just let it go
We pretend so nothing does change
Weâ€™re flowers never breaking through
We survived
Well we can change
So let it fade
Just let it go
We pretend so nothing does change
Weâ€™re flowers never breaking through the stone
