Don't ever change
These things that we do to stay the same
Are impossibly inaccurate, your passing glance so delicate
And I see the words on the tip of your tongue
But my head can't make sense, and my body's gone numb

To you
It's not true
Say goodbye
Forget you

Don't say I never saw this coming
We're just victims to this future we can't choose
Don't say I never said "I loved you"
When you're the only one I thought I'd never lose
(I swear I loved you all along)

Don't you see what this is doing to yourself?
Not to say you're crazy, but lately this is getting out of hand
And it's time we take a stand against
These things we said
And every word we left unread
The times we made
We know them like the veins on both our hands

It's not true
Say goodbye
Forget you

Don't say I never saw this coming
We're just victims to this future we can't choose
Don't say I never said "I loved you"
When you're the only one I thought I'd never lose
(I swear I loved you all along)

Don't say I never saw this coming
Don't say I never said I loved you
Don't say I never saw this coming

Don't say I never said I loved you
(I saw this coming all along, I saw this coming all along)

Don't say I never saw this coming
We're just victims to this future we can't choose
Don't say I never said "I loved you"
When you're the only one I thought I'd never lose
