"Alienation Is Learned"

Along my primary school years I have learned to hate and to isolate myself, I have refused to join my so-called peers in the pursuit of a bitter life. Well, maybe like me you've been terrorized by those who tend to patronize. Well, remember this my friend, at least it kept you from becoming one of them. Like everybody else. What the hell is so damn satisfying in making people feel like shit? It hurts to have no one around you, Yeah it hurts to be afraid of everybody else. The truth, the lies, the agony we fight!
