Did you ever try to understand
What goes inside of the man
That used to hold your hand
Did you ever try to understand
What goes inside of the man
That gives his love in your hands
Some nights we die,
Some nights we cry
Don't push your love over borderline
Don't push your love over the line
Don't push your love over the borderline
Don't push your love over the line
Did you ever try to understand
What goes inside of the man
That used to hold your hand
Did you ever try to understand
What goes inside of the man
That gives his heart in your hands
Some nights we die,
Some nights we cry
Don't push your love over borderline
Don't push your love over the line
Don't push your love over the borderline
Don't push your love over the line
