"Citizens Of The World"

We refuse to remain silent as this nation condemns cultures as a threat to global economics, forgetting we're all citizens of the world. As individuals, we can no longer ignore nationality is diagnosed. Like a controlled virus it points out minorities and it exterminates the unsuitable. As moral human beings we can not deny the fact that patriotic hymns resonate the bells of war. And no swastikas or crosses can match the devotion of a loving friend and the complexity behind the beauty of this world. And now the borders shall go down with the flags! We are all equal, and we're so much the same. Knowledge is still our best weapon, so let's break down the fences and learn more about each other to make this place better for everyone.
