For seven days has the hail fallen from the sky We think of nothing else still no one discloses a single thought It's a black hail and the sun in shade, something will come about
And we await tomorrow what's coming and what that means

You - seem to think

That - we are lost

You seem to wait - for the end to come

I know for a fact - it's a new day for mankind
For seven days - seven - has life been fleeing further north It's on all our minds still we all pretend not to wonder why It's a black hail and the sun in shade, something is unforeseen
And we await tomorrow what's coming to befall us all
You - seem to think

That - we are lost

You seem to wait - for the end to come

I know for a fact - it's a new day for mankind
You - seem to think

That - we are lost

You seem to wait - for the end to come

I know for a fact - it's a new day for mankind
You - seem to think

That - we are lost

You seem to wait - for the end to come

I know for a fact-it's a new day for mankind
