Is it true I hear, you're gone
Guess this place for you wasn't home
Is it now too late, can I call?
I just wanna talk, it won't take long

And if I see your face
My breath just goes away
And if I could efface
I would want you to stay

Tell me what to say to slow down my heartbeat
Tell me all the things you need from me
I don't mean to stray
Just tell me how to make you sway

All the things we had before
Wouldn't change at all the result
I wish I could make things right
And untwine the wrongs we've done

And if I see your face
My breath just goes away
And if we meet halfway
Would you consider staying?

Tell me what to say to slow down my heartbeat
Tell me all the things you need from me
I don't mean to stray
Just tell me how to make you sway

I can hear us laughing after all
But the show is over, not postponed
Yeah

Tell me what to say to slow down my heartbeat (Is it true, that you're gone) Tell me all the things you need from me (Never thought you would f*ck me over)
I don't mean to stray (I'll untwine)
Just tell me how to make you sway (The wrongs that I've done)

Show me how to leave or how to disbelieve (Just leave me, don't call me) Tell me not to be the one who feels (This is your last cigarette burning)
Show me how to lie (Won't answer)
To tell you that I'll be ok (You're not coming home)

That I'll be one day
