You have given me a window into my own inner human spirit and it's warmed my hear

Like the powerless hand of a helpless child here I am afraid to touch the light i've felt inside

I'll see to it that this breath of doubt will be the last I'll ever draw I ask only to act upon the beliefs I've so strongly spoken

I'm disgusted and insulted with myself

And with every brave step forward I can justify the sacrifice

I belong to you
Be with me now
