I may seem nice, I may seem sweet, I'm poison on the inside.

I'll sugar-coat my lies, I wear a thin disguise.

You never seem to see through me.

You know you'll never change me, I am not the girl of your dreams,

See me, I'm not the things I never will be

Don't ask for promises that I can never keep,

I'm not the girl of your dreams.

Call me naive, but you don't know what my cold hearts been scheming

I'll take what I can get, use you and then forget.

One day it's fine, the next I'm gone.

You know you'll never change me, I am not the girl of your dreams,

See me, I'm not the things I never will be

Don't ask for promises that I can never keep,

I'm not the girl of your dreams.

I'm bored with you again,

not easy to pretend

you are the only one for me

You claim to be misled,

although I never said that I would ever see this through.

You know you'll never change me, I am not the girl of your dreams,

See me, I'm not the things I never will be

Change me, I am not the girl of your dreams,

See me, I'm not the things I never will be
