A new era of industrial fascism has begun and our world's fate is being written by the wealth addicts in the name of corporate dominance yet among the damned a voice still cries ???my dreams will not be destroyed and I refuse to be your fucking slave??. I won't lay down my life for this corporate machine. I wont bleed myself dry in this new feudal age. And as we stand battered, abused and imprisoned for the sake of the bloodthirsty upper class and capitalist greed our eyes are open and we see through your lies. By our hands your empire will lie in ashes
