I think im coming around the bend again I think im coming around i cant remember when
And all this running around is gonna end I feel it coming around i cant go back again

Help Me
Before it starts sing me songs you've never heard its nothing when nothings all you got i keep running away im running away from me

I hear them running around in my head again such a defining sound to hear the steps again my devences were down they let themselves in its taken all that i had to get them out again

Help me
before it starts
its nothing when nothings all you've got

i keep running away im running away from me

Please its in your head it isn't real you cannot handle this seems enough to know just what its like What I've become what ive become

I think were coming around the bend again i think were coming around i cant remember when i let the medicine man become my friend i know there coming around to take me back again

Help me
before it starts
sing me songs ive never heard its nothing cuz nothings all i got
i keep running away im running away from me
i keep running away im running away from me
i keep running away im running away from me
