Silver-ringed teardrops left to wear
Precious thing, torn apart to share
Silence beneath the clouds
One word spoken aloud...

And she comes to me after the heaven's rain
Silent Dawn with purple cellophane

Eyes turned away from brightening skies

Burning from fire lost inside
Changing from blue to green and brown.
Three colors wash away and drown

And she comes to me after the heaven's rain
Silent Dawn with purple cellophane

I alone love you Dawn
