and the chambers led down to the tomb i followed the walls with crimson hands adrenaline flowing fueled the fear visibility zero, heightened my ear cob webs creeping down my spine constant feeling of another's breath trapped underground with the dynasties the pitch-black is taking my sanity entombed in ice

the ever-winding paths, to my mind unfold who'd ever thought, i'd die so cold in the distance i see a light, the eyes play tricks in the abyss

oh no,
oh no,
oh no,
oh no
i feel the icicles from the ceiling i feel my blood freezing solid i feel my lips going numb i feel my soul entombed in ice oh oh oh oh oh

the ever-winding paths, to my mind unfold

entombed in ice
